TRIAL TRIP WILL BE MADE ON FRIDAY

Storage Battery Car for Use on Central Vermont Road Nearly Ready for Test.

Sufficient progress has been made in installing the batteries and doing other necessary work in equipping the Central Vermont's electric car so that C. A. Wipf of the Railway Storage Battery Car Co., who is in charge of the work, expects that it will be possible to make trial runs of the car Friday. If these are made then and prove satisfactory it is possible that the car will be started on a regular schedule Monday which will include, as published in The Reformer a week ago, runs to Millers Falls, Northfield and West Townsend.

This car eventually is to be a sort of auxiliary car in the regular electric service. The two cars yet to come are each provided with baggage compartments as well as seats for passengers. The car now here may be used, either as a trailer for one of the others, or may be operated under its own power.

The question of whether the storage battery cars are powerful enough to be operated on schedule time on the grades and curves will be determined by the test of the car now here, and if the test is satisfactory the other cars will probably be delivered within a comparatively short time and before Labor day the full complement should be in operation.

CLAYTON A CANDIDATE.

South Londonderry Publisher and Lawyer Wishes to Be Senator.

O. R. Clayton, lawyer and newspaper publisher, made the following announcement, the last issue of his paper, The Londonderry Star.

I have been urged by many friends in Windham county to become a candidate for a state senatorship from this county this year. I am frank to say that I aspire to this position and should consider it a high honor to be chosen as the Republican nominee for this office.

There are several measures of a progressive nature that I have been, and am now, strongly in favor of; but I believe in working for these reforms through the regular party channels instead of withdrawing from the party to work in unproved conditions. In other words, I believe the party should do its own housecleaning. One of these measures which I have urged during the past few years and which I worked for during the last session of the legislature, is a direct primary law which would postpone house elections. The next legislature will be expected to place such a law on the statutes of the state. More control of the affairs of the state should be within reach of the people and less power be given to the professional politician. There are great possibilities in the reform of our government in this state. Members of the legislature in this state. Members of the legislature in this state. Members of the legislature in this state.

These, and needed changes for better education, improved highways, and development of state resources, are some of the reforms that should be adopted; and I have them in mind while stating that I am a candidate for state senatorship from Windham county.

O. R. CLAYTON, South Londonderry, Vt., Aug. 14, 1914.

SET AFIRE BY BROTHER.

Alice Bloty, Aged 7, of West Rutland, Badly Burned.

RUTLAND, Aug. 18.—Alice Bloty, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bloty of West Rutland, was badly burned yesterday afternoon while she and her brother, John, were playing with fire in the yard of their home. The brother, accidentally or intentionally, took an improvised torch from a bonfire which they had built and set ablaze his sister's clothing.

The children were two frightened to seek help in time to prevent grave consequences, and when they finally returned home, the little girl was badly injured. Dr. J. B. Guritman was hurriedly summoned. The physician said that there was hope of her recovery. She was burned about the back, legs and shoulders.

Pure lithium, which is the lightest metal known, has no practical use.

GEN. VELASCO SURRENDERS

Federal Troops' Commander Yields to the Constitutionalists

CARRANZA'S ENTRY AGAIN POSTPONED

Mexico City Hears Reports of Recognition from Washington—Three Constitutionalists Executed in Outskirts of Capital.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—General Velasco, commander of the federal troops, surrendered yesterday to the constitutionalist, General Obregon, in Mexico City, according to news received by General Carranza, the new provisional president, and now awaits the orders of the constitutionalist authorities.

Gen. Carranza's entry into the city again has been postponed. It had been tentatively fixed for Thursday. It was decided by a council of the chiefs of the constitutionalists that it would be advisable for Gen. Carranza to wait until all the federals, or at least a majority of them, have been disbanded and disarmed.

The declaration of the federal troops at Guadalupe that they would not abide by the peace terms proved yesterday to have no backing. All the constitutionalist troops in the capital, however, were held under arms Monday night, prepared for emergency.

Gen. Francisco Villa has returned to the city of Chihuahua, but it is said he and his chiefs will go to the capital later.

It was reported yesterday that Pascual Orozco, the former rebel leader, who went over to the federals, had slipped through the constitutionalist lines, with three companions, and was being
